

Dr. Hiroki Saito is a Japanese physician who obtained his MD in Japan in 2005, and infectious disease board in the U.S. He has worked globally including the US as a physician, and Uganda as a JICA volunteer. He completed the Infectious Disease Emergency Specialist (IDES) training provided by the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare, through which he worked for the Infection Prevention and Control (IPC) Global Unit at the WHO headquarter. He has been in the current position since 2018, and has been working on his IPC research in Uganda while working for a university affiliated hospital in Yokohama.